Lessons from the LIFE Study: A Randomized Trial of Physical Activity to Prevent Major Mobility Disability in Vulnerable Older Adults.

Todd Manini, PhD
Associate Professor
Department of Aging and Geriatric Research
Division of Career Development and Education and Division of Clinical Research
University of Florida

Rehabilitation Science Seminar

Wednesday, January 25, 2017
Noon – 1:00

McKnight Brain Institute
DeWeese Auditorium

Sponsored by the Physical Therapy Department & the T32 Neuromuscular Plasticity Training Program (NMPT)